LOVES MUSIC, LOVES TO DANCE: Nona, a film maker, Darcy, owner of a small decorating business and Erin, a jewelry designer are good friends. Nona is filming a story about people and why they write personal ads. She talked Darcy and Erin into writing and answering a personal ad. One night the three are to meet for dinner but Erin never shows up. Darcy becomes worried but Nona thinks Erin has just lost track of time. Unfortunately, Darcy's fears come true. Erin has gone missing. Even more to worry about is the re-investigation of a 15-year-old murder where the victim was found with one dancing shoe and one shoe she had been wearing. Can the two be related? Surely not! There are three men in the picture. A doctor who is writing a book on people who write/answer personal ads, a philandering husband and a man who tells people he is Erin's agent. What do these three have to do with the fact that Erin is missing? Everything? Nothing? But wait; there is yet another man - the brother of the girl that was murdered 15 years ago. Darcy is attracted to him. Can this be a good thing or even a safe thing? In investigating Erin's disappearance, more girls are found to have gone missing. Now the mates to the shoes found on the first victim turn up and other similar pairs are being found. What is happening? Where is Erin? Is Darcy safe? Grab a copy of LOVES MUSIC, LOVES TO DANCE and find out. ALL AROUND THE TOWN: I have always been fascinated with the Multiple Personality Syndrome (MPS) and with the fact that one human being can inflict so much pain on another. With these two themes, Ms. Clark writes an engrossing tale of 4-year-old Lorie who is taken by Bic and Opal and kept for two years.
